

Definition of Done (DoD)

- ❖ Adding Change password Button is Tested and Working Perfectly
- ❖ View Menu Button was added perfectly and Working Fine tested by automated tester
- ❖ Notification Banner Also is Responsive
- ❖ Choosing between Option of Payments is responsive

Definition of Ready (DoR)

- ❖ Allowing Access to notification and pushing notification system fits together
- ❖ Start Working on Picture Food Stored on Database and ready to be tested
- ❖ Working 2FA system ready to be tested in IOS and Android
- ❖ Bank Contracts ready to be signed up
- ❖ Adding Dummy Security Question and Answer

Definition of Done (DoD)

- ❖ The Scrum team as a whole agrees on the Definition of Done, which outlines the requirements that a product increment must satisfy in order to be finished and prepared for release. It specifies the levels of excellence and thoroughness necessary for each user story or backlog item.

Definition of Ready (DoR)

- ❖ Definition of Ready (DoR): A user story or backlog item must satisfy a set of requirements before it is accepted into a sprint and worked on by the development team. Before beginning work on a specific issue, it serves as a checklist to make sure the team has all the necessary knowledge, clarity, and prerequisites in place. A clear and succinct user story, acceptance criteria, estimations, and any other pertinent information are frequently included in the DoR. It guarantees that the Product Backlog items are clearly stated, comprehended, and prepared for the development team to implement.